COOPERATIVE MARKETING

Clarence Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer, in an address before the recent East Tennessee Farmers' Convention said that "first of all and before there can be successful marketing there must be the highest efficiency in production. This is the first essential of successful agriculture. There have been many attempts at cooperation in marketing but there has been a lack of system and general efficiency in operation and production. There must be general efficiency and systematic operation in communities before collective marketing can be made practical.

"But I believe we now have arrived at the psychological moment in the development of agriculture to press systematic cooperative marketing of products.

"We now have the necessary Federal and State laws in most of the States to make the system possible. Need of system now is fully and generally recognized. Practical experience in some sections and in some lines has demonstrated the practicability and benefit."

ATTACK MADE ON PERSONALITY TAX

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 24.—If the attack made in the Chancery Court by the Vesta Gas Range Co. on the validity of the 1907 personal property assessment law is upheld property in Tennessee will be exempt from taxation, local lawyers say. The case seeks to prevent the collection of $1,444 levied against tangible personal property of the complainant company.

The bill is similar to the one recently filed and tried out before the Chancellor by the Volunteer Life Insurance Co. against County Trustee Schneider. The bill attacks the constitutionality of the 1907 law, charging that it is direct conflict with both the State and the United States constitution, in that it assesses property which the State constitution says can not be assessed.

ORGANIZING UNITED FARMERS OF AMERICA

Newbern, Tenn., June 24.—A number of speakers and organizers are invading many districts of the county to organize the United Farmers of America. Practically every section in the county has perfected an organization, and much interest is being manifested by the farmers who believe they can handle their products on a co-operative plan and eliminate the middlemen's profits.

GLASSES LOST.

Dr. A. T. Perry will pay for the recovery of a pair of gold-rim glasses lost between Camden and Harmon Creek last week.

The Obstacle.

"If I loan you $5, what do you aim to do with the money?" asked Gabe Gawkey of Straddle Ridge.

"It don't make no difference to you as long as I promise to pay you back," miffedly replied the would-be borrower.

"Like thunder it don't. You might spend it for bone dry licker, and the chances are that no matter how much you'd promised you couldn't pay back. You'd prob'ly be dead."—Kansas City Star.

MILLENNIUM NOTES.

The Street Committee of Camden has finally, though seemingly reluctantly, yielded to the constant pleadings of a long suffering public and ordered the right of way cleared for a walkway from L. R. Watson's to Mrs. L. M. Smith's on Main Street. There may be further delay in carrying out this praise worthy project owing to a diversity of opinion as to the best method of invading the dense jungle on the right of way. In the opinion of one member of the committee, the trees are so large and closely welded together that axmen would make very slow progress. Another suggestion is that trained elephants (probably to be found right in this jungle) be used in uplifting the trees. The use of a battery of 10-inch guns has also been suggested. In any event it is more than likely a walkway may be opened at this point within the next ten or twenty years.

The narrow escape of several children from being snake bitten where the weeds practically obstruct the sidewalk near the northeast corner of Alderman Lockhart's poultry ranch on Main Street, has aroused Camden parents to the dangers that lurk at this point for their children.

Following the collision on Main Street Tuesday night when two were killed and three probably maimed for life, there are no more cars running in Camden at nights without lights. Though long delayed, the town authorities are to be commended for strictly enforcing this ordinance.

An order has been issued to clean up the court house, scrub the stairways and hall, wash and repair windows, remove all rubbish, remedy the acoustices of the main court room and look after the interior of the building and yard generally.

CARROLL DEMOCRATS HAVE A FULL TICKET

Huntingdon, Tenn., June 23.—The August election in Carroll promises to be one of unusual interest. For nearly 25 years the Democrats of Carroll County have failed to put out a full ticket in the August election. The Republicans have been holding the county offices for a longer period than that. Occasionally one or more Democrats have had the courage to make a race, but seldom have succeeded in winning.

This year the Democrats are making the fight for the entire ticket. The Republican leaders have characterized the effort as "a piece of fool-hardiness," but it is giving them much concern.

The Democratic ticket is as follows: For Sheriff, Sam C. Kennou; County Court Clerk, Joe H. McCall; Trustee, Roach Thomas; Circuit Court Clerk, R. A. Crider; Register, H. M. McLean; Chancellor, Tom C. Rye.

The Republican ticket: For Sheriff, M. L. Robinson; Trustee, W. G. Leach; County Court Clerk, J. W. Jarrett; Circuit Court Clerk, W. H. Blair; Register, W. F. McCollum.

A good way to make the world better is to begin with the home town.

Good roads lead not only to town, but to money.

TO THE CHRISTIAN PEOPLE OF CAMDEN

A series of meetings will begin at the First Methodist Church on Sunday July 9, to which all Christians, regardless of their church affiliations, are invited and very cordially asked by the pastor, Rev. R. B. Swift, to cooperate in the meeting insofar as they may be able to do so.

Rev. C. B. Clayton of Hazel, Ky., has been engaged to do the preaching. Daily services will be held, beginning at the hours of 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. unless a change of the hour at any time should be deemed expedient.

Brother Swift is deeply concerned about the spiritual welfare of the people of our community. He is convinced that the church people of Camden need to realize that our Heavenly Father has placed upon the Christian men and women of a community absolute responsibility of the evangelization of that community. The business of Christians is to be soul winners. Don't attempt to ease your conscience by saying this is the duty of the preacher. "Ye are the salt of the earth," "Ye are the light of the world," sayeth the Master.

If the Christian men and women of the town and community have not sufficient influence over those who know them, and have not sufficient vitality to win souls for Christ, then it is time for us to humble ourselves before God and get where we can be soul winners. We endorse the suggestion made that there be daily sunrise and afternoon prayer services at the different churches of the town in rotation.

It is intended that the song service shall be a feature during the meeting, and it is the special desire of the pastor that all who sing come forward and assist in this part of the service.

THINK THIS OVER.

This happened at the Chicago Live Stock show. A doctor stood admiring a large, fat hog when a small boy standing by piped up, "That's my father's hog. He got the first prize."

"Wonderful," said the doctor. "Certainly a very fine hog." Then he looked at the boy. "How old are you, son?" he asked.

"I'm twelve past," said the boy. "Why," said the doctor, you are small for a nine-year-old. What do you eat and drink?"

"Just what the rest of the folks do—bread, meat, pie, potatoes, cake and tea."

"But," queried the doctor, "don't you drink milk?"

"Naw," said the boy in a tone of disgust, "we feed the milk to the hogs."

MISS FRANCISCO DIES OF DROPSY

Miss Dora Francisco, 46; died at her home near Liberty Sunday morning, of dropsy. The interment took place at Liberty Sunday. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. N. Wilkes.

Miss Francisco was the daughter of Peter Francisco, a highly esteemed citizen of the Liberty community. She had been in bad health for some time, and while her death was not unexpected, it was quite a shock to the family and neighbors.

May time bring its resignation, and may the shores of eternity that receive her soul surround it with everlasting sunshine and flowers

DAYS ARE SET FOR FARMER'S INSTITUTE

As announced Friday the farmers of West Tennessee will assemble at the West Tennessee Experiment Station at Jackson for their annual institute July 25-27.

O. P. Lashlee, president of the West Tennessee Farmers' Institute, and C. A. Thomas, of Jackson, secretary, were in conference with C. A. Keffer of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, at Jackson last week and a tentative program was mapped out at this meeting. Mr. Keffer is director of the Division of Extension of Tennessee.

Mr. Lashlee informed a Chronicle reporter Monday that a combination program of lectures by able specialists and field demonstrations were agreed upon at the above conference. The schedule will embrace the following topics: Cooperative marketing, dairying, poultry, farm bureaus and control of boll weevil.

THE DUTY OF WOMEN

The following advice is from a speech by Senator Atles Pomerine of Ohio at a meeting of Ohio Democratic women voters May 12:

"Madam chairman, ladies and gentlemen—There was a time when there was a difference of opinion in the United States whether or not women should have the right to vote. That is purely an academic question now. I do not look upon the right of suffrage as a privilege I look upon it as an obligation. It is just as much your duty and mp duty to take an interest—intelligent as well as active—in the affairs of State as it is for the good wives and mothers to take such an interest in their household affairs, or for men and women to take such an interest in their business affairs.

The Government of the household of Uncle Sam's people, and every man and woman must take a real interest in Uncle Sam's house-keeping, otherwise they will fall short of doing their full duty.

THE BIG QUESTION.

"The vast majority of all parties are good people, men and women. If we get the wrong kind of men or woman on our ticket it is, as a rule, because the good men and women have not taken the interest in political affairs they ought to take. There can be no question about that. Our Government is just as good as its people, and no better. Our Government serves the people to the extent they take an active and intelligent interest in it. It is for this reason every God-fearing man and woman ought to take a very real interest in our Government. And let me say to you, my friends, the vicious men and women, almost without exception, will be found active during campaigns and at the polls on election day. The question for us to determine for ourselves is, "Are we going to shirk our duty, or are we going to do it with the same intensity of purpose they do what they conceive to be their duty?"

TWO KINDS OF SIN.

"There are two kinds of sin. One is the sin of commission. One is the sin of omission. When men and women go to the polls and knowingly vote for the wrong candidates they are guilty of the sin of commission. When men and women fail to take an active and an intelligent interest in the affairs of Government, and do not go to the polls, they are guilty of the sin of omission. I want to appeal to the good men and women of Ohio to take such an interest in the affairs of our Government as they never have before in their lives. Women must vote right or pay $1,000,000,000 more taxes.

"It is estimated that under the stimulus of the high rates proposed in the pending bill the women of the United States will be forced to pay approximately $1,000,000,000 more for clothing than they pay now, under the Underwood-Simmons law. This includes all articles of women's wearing apparel from lace to hair nets. "The pending Tariff Bill is one of our issues, and I welcome it!"

If some women used as much care in choosing a husband as they do in selecting a hat, there would be fewer divorces in the country.

A nice front porch and pretty yard has prevented many an old maid.
